We had a nice run of weighups in the offering for the sale this week. The weighup market is staying steady to $2-$3 higher in some classes. The cattle market has definitely had its share of ups and downs lately, but we saw some positive movement heading into the end of the week. Cash fed cattle strengthened, feeder cattle futures finished higher, and supplies continue to remain tight across the country. Beef demand is still holding its own, which continues to give this market some underlying support.

Then we ran a bit long before we got started on the yearlings and kicked off on them at NOON. With so many different classes of cattle to sell in one day, it is pretty hard to have an exact schedule. All we really know is when we are starting, and that we have the place rented all day.

The yearling and calf market was STRONG! Even with all the noise surrounding this cattle market lately, the fundamentals of the U.S. beef industry remain pretty remarkable. Cattle supplies are historically tight, beef production remains limited, and consumers continue to show they want beef. Those things continue to put some real strength underneath good calves and yearlings.

We have another nice lineup coming next week, Friday, September 18th, with around 2,000 head expected for the day.

As always, THANK YOU to our consignors who trust us with their cattle, our buyers who show up week after week, and our crew who keeps this crazy place moving. Another successful day at Crawford Livestock, and we couldn't do it without every one of you.

And finally, selling cattle on September 11th gave us one more reason to stop and remember. Twenty-five years later, we still remember those we lost, those who ran toward danger instead of away from it, and a day when Americans simply stood together.

May we never forget. ~Rich & Alicia
