It was a hot, muggy day in Crawford, Nebraska today, but we sure aren't complaining about the moisture! We actually received over an inch of rain in town and around the area, and we will take every drop we can get.

We had a nice run of weigh-ups with over 250 head in the offering. At noon, we moved into the yearlings with a couple of load-lot deals. The board was down today, but despite the volatility of this crazy deal, we got along alright.

From there, we went into package trade of steers and heifers, with some fall calves in the offering, before moving into the Pregged Open heifers. As preg checking continues across the country, we expect to have a steady run of those over the next couple of weeks.

And somehow, we are already kicking off our FALL RUN next week! It's hard to believe, but Friday, August 21st, we'll be selling 1,600+ head of spring calves!

There are certainly a lot of unknowns out there right now. Between the markets, the weather, the drought and everything else this year has thrown our way, no one really knows what to expect from one week to the next. But we'll all muddle through these uncertain times together, just like we always do.

We appreciate every one of you who continues to trust Crawford Livestock Market to market your cattle. We'll see you next Friday for the start of the fall run!
