100% Grass-Fed Diet

Cattle after being weaned from their mother's milk have only (100%) been fed from forages consisting of grass (annual and perennial), forbs (e.g., legumes, brassica), browse, or cereal grain crops in the vegetative (pre-grain) state, hay, haylage, baleage, silage, crop residue without grain, and other roughage sources. Cattle were not fed grain or grain by-products and have had continuous access to pasture during the growing season.

Angus Breed

Cattle are predominantly - i.e. 51% or higher - of the Angus breed confirmed by either genotype (traceable to one registered parent or two registered grandparents with a breed association) or phenotype identification of Angus breed appearance characteristics.

No Added Hormones

Cattle were raised without the use of added hormones, steroids, beta agonists or any other growth promotants.

No Antibiotics for Growth Promotion

Cattle were raised without the use of sub-therapeutic antibiotics to promote growth. Antibiotics were only administered in case of illness.

Humanely Raised

Cattle were raised following humane animal raising standards.

Pasture Raised

Cattle were raised on pasture and have never been confined to a feedlot.
