

Crawford Livestock Market

We sold a total of 1250 head consisting on 394 weigh up cows and bulls and 856 replacement heifers and feeder cattle. Overall it was a tough day on our market. Our continued dryness coupled with a corn market that continues going up, is making optimism in the cattle industry hard to find at the current time. One segment of the cow market was better with the cows weighing 1000#-1100# were $5 better this week at a range of $58-$75. The rest of the cow complex was basically $3-$5 lower with killer bulls following suit, being $1-$4 off. Heiferettes were also under pressure with the top end being $6 weaker with the bulk bringing $83-$101 with a top end of $110. The replacement type heifers were strong and carried the strength of the feeder sale. We saw very limited buyer participation in house and online as fundamentals are soft and buyers are having a hard time feeding cattle with corn being over $7.
