Weighup market was a bit softer in some classes than last week and stronger in others. With the news and commentary from last week, there was certainly reason for some volatility in Friday's slaughter market. And anymore, it seems like any reason to rock the boat is just par for the course!

But the CALF MARKET?! What in the world! 🔥

We truly had no idea what to expect. This was a first for us, selling spring calves in AUGUST, and like so many things this year, we were heading into uncharted territory.

Here's a little clip from the Feeder Flash:

"Crawford Livestock Market's Regular Cattle Sale & Special Yearling & Spring Calf Sale was the largest feeder cattle sale in the nation Friday, with more than 2,100 head through the ring, and the day was packed with nation-leading calf prices."

So I would say, all things considered, we hit it out of the park! ⚾️ 🔥 🐮

I do apologize for not getting this report out sooner, but sometimes family obligations take precedence. Both of my kids are officially in college now! One at SDSU GO JACKS! 💙 💛 and the other at UWYO GO POKES! 💜 💛

So there are definitely some changes in the air for Rich and me as we enter the empty-nester stage. Although, I have a feeling being empty nesters just means we'll work more. 😊

Most importantly, THANK YOU.

Thank you to our consignors who continue to muddle through these uncharted territories right alongside us and trust Crawford Livestock Market to market their cattle.

Thank you to our buyers who show up, bid hard and keep this market moving.

Thank you to our crew. You all know we have the best crew around here, right?! We couldn't do what we do without them.

And thank YOU the people who click on our website, follow our social media pages, like a post, share our content, watch a sale or simply tell someone about Crawford Livestock Market. It all matters, and we appreciate every bit of it.

It has certainly been a year of doing things a little differently, but Friday was a pretty darn good reminder that good cattle, good people and a competitive market are a hard combination to beat.
