

Crawford Livestock Market

Market report for March 4, 2022-We sold 330 head of weighup cattle and 2,300 head of bred stock and feeder cattle. The top end of the good feeding cows this week were higher bringing $78-$85.50, up $3 from our previous sale. The better killer cows were stronger as well, ranging from $79 clear up to $87. The next cut of killer cows brought $74.50-$84.50. We had a nice big run of bulls this week with the big, sound, sturdy kill bulls going from $98.50-$114.50. The heiferette market this week averaged $92 but varied from $82-$111.00

We had a small offering of bred stock this week some nice 1st calf heifers bringing $1560 and a group of solid mouth cows calving at the end of March bringin $1575. The feeder market was steady to lower across the board with a week's results of worldwide influences playing a major role. Despite that, we had good results with active in house buyer participation and good internet bidding support throughout the sale. We are off next week and are currently getting some must needed moisture in our part of the country. We want to once again thank our customers, buyers and crew for a great sale.
